Imagine transforming a flat sheet of aluminum alloy into an attractive hood scoop. Or designing and making your own aluminum wheel tubs, floorpan and dashboard for your street machine. How about learning to design and build your own body panels, manifolds, brackets and fuel tanks? These are just a few of the many tips and techniques shared by master metal craftsman Ron Fournier.

Author of HP's award-winning Metal Fabricator's Handbook, Fournier packs decades of experience designing and shaping sheet metal components for Indy cars, drag race cars, road racers, street rods and street machines into 144 pages. You'll find tips on:

- Setting up your own shop
- Selecting and using basic hand tools
- Proper use of English wheels, bead rollers, brakes and power hammers
- Pattern design and proper sheet metal selection
- Basic metal shaping techniques
- The art of hammer forming
- Proper riveting techniques
- And finally, tips on restoring original sheet metal

Whether you're restoring a '32 Ford, constructing a race car, building a show-winning street rod or street machine, or perhaps developing your skills for work in the metal industry, you'll find the information in this book invaluable, and a perfect addition to any home automotive library.

Great teaching book

By David

This is a great book to learn basic sheet metal work. With the lack of shop classes in schools I have used this to show people how to do sheet metal work with out having to buy an entire shop.
